TEMPRAKON ZONE PILLOWS

Sleep is essential for our well-being, health, and energy in everyday life. Temprakon Zone is developed based on the latest technology, knowledge of sleep - combined with the best from nature.

Temprakon Zone complements the body's temperature zones. One of the body's ways to ensure a constant temperature is heat radiation from the skin's surface. The body sends heat to the skin, which is then emitted as radiant heat.

As you sleep, your body changes temperature and the body has a shifting need to get rid of the heat. A constant temperature ensures a more even and calm night's sleep.

Temprakon Zone has small microcapsules in our duvets and filling. They respond to the temperature. If it is hot - they absorb heat. If it is cool they release heat. This ensures a more even temperature and better sleep.

WITHOUT TEMPRAKON TECHNOLOGY

WITH TEMPRAKON TECHNOLOGY

Temprakon Zone combines the best of nature and state-of-the-art technology. The cooling material is made from natural wood fibres and all our down has the highest animal-ethics standards.

The body also regulates the temperature through evaporation from the skin. The body sends the heat to the skin's surface, and here it is released as moisture. The body often releases more than 1/2 litre of fluid at night. It is therefore important that pillows can absorb moisture, and direct it away from the body.

Temprakon Zone technology microcapsules absorb excess moisture from the body. This provides an optimum dry and fresh sleeping environment that creates the best conditions for a good night's sleep.

Temprakon Zone has extra breeze zones with extra open ventilation holes in the sides. This ensures that excess heat, humidity and moisture are more easily led away from the body.

Moisture is the optimal climate for bacteria and dust mites. All Temprakon Zone down is treated with natural oils, such as Margosa. FRESH-treatment is an extremely effective antimicrobial technology which eliminates dust mites.

Sometimes the smallest innovation is the biggest revolution. Temprakon was originally created with the technology and microcapsules from NASA's space suits that helped astronauts regulate temperature under extreme conditions in space. Temprakon sets new standards for duvets and pillows - and for more than 15 years has provided better sleep to thousands of customers.

The Temprakon Zone series has taken space technology to new heights. A little step closer to the perfect sleep.
